

LEAVING BOULDER

Bags packed
Ready to travel
I check out of the Boulderado

I feel the lingering hugs on my body
I hear the echoes of the of the voices in deep conversations
Conversations that will change lives
I feel the radiance of the love and respect shared by the tribe

The Keepers of the Flame came to reconnect, recharge and feel the warmth of the flame
Ready to carry the radiance of the Flame in their hearts till next year's gathering
Keeping the Flame alive for those who come after us so they too
Can explore their souls and why they answered the call to this work

Chip Webster
6-28-15